Divorce & Separation

Private Client Services

Divorce & Separation

The end of a relationship is distressing enough without having to deal with the practicalities of your separation. Rawlison Butler LLP has an experienced team specialising in family law matters. We will advise you on all of the legal issues arising out of your relationship breakdown.

Divorce

We can advise you of the grounds needed for a divorce or dissolution of a civil partnership and the process involved. If you wish to file for divorce or dissolution, we will deal with this on your behalf. If you are or think you are likely to be divorced by your spouse, we will advise you how best to respond.

"I am writing to express my gratitude to Rawlison Butler who I believe have conducted matters with such acute professionalism."

Mr H, West Sussex.

Financial Settlement

The court can make orders in relation to property, pensions, savings and other capital. It can also make orders for maintenance. The law relating to finances on separation is detailed and complex. Our family team will advise you of your position and act on your behalf to ensure you achieve a fair and reasonable settlement.

Children

We know that the wellbeing of your children following your separation is paramount. If you need help or advice on how to resolve the arrangements for your children, for example with which parent they will live or how often they will see the other parent, we will deal with this sensitively and constructively.

Co-habitees

Rawlison Butler recognises that the modern family is often not married. We will advise you of the complexities of the law relating to your situation, which, in many areas, is different to the law for married couples.

If you are thinking about living with someone we can advise you whether any steps should be taken before you do. Nobody wants to think about their relationship failing. However, a little planning before you do embark on cohabitation may prevent later stressful wrangling if things don't work out.

Our family team wants to ensure that this difficult time for you is dealt with as painlessly as possible. We will deal with your individual needs in a sympathetic and non-confrontational way. However, if your situation demands it, we will take a firm and forceful stance.

Our experienced male and female advisors are members of Regulation (formerly the Solicitors Family Law Association).

At Rawlison Butler LLP we believe our proven track record and personal approach consistently demonstrates our professional expertise and efficient service delivery.
